

Storage Unit Auction Nets Munitions Cache

Posted At : December 18, 2021 11:57 AM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories:

Rockwell, Texas A man who purchased the contents of an abandoned storage unit at auction got the surprise of a lifetime when he discovered military ordnance inside. The man called the police who responded and evacuated the areas as they called in the Garland Bomb Squad for assistance.

The types or amounts of munitions recovered was not reported. The Rockwall Police Department did release a statement which that they are cooperating with "local, federal and military partners to develop a plan on how to safely collect and dispose of the items and make sure our community is safe."