

Military Ordnance Found in Deceased Man's Tool Shed

Posted At : June 12, 2016 7:03 AM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: Souvenirs

Stevensville, Maryland The Maryland State Fire Marshal's Office Bomb Squad was called to a residence where a man cleaning out his father's tool shed found two containers of old military ordnance.

The bomb squad X-rayed the boxes which were found to contain a 60 mm shell and a WWII era Mark II grenade hand grenade. The items appeared to be inert but were removed anyway for safe disposal.