

Recent UXO Finds Removed From Island Police Station

Posted At : March 19, 2018 8:06 AM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: WWII Era UXO Finds

Tulagi, Soloman Islands EOD from the Royal Solomon Islands Police Force safely removed WWII UXO from Tulagi in the Central Islands Province to Honiara. The munitions were found in two separate locations and were being held at the Tulagi Police Station until they could be retrieved by EOD.

The area is littered with WWII ordnance and residents have been warned to take precautions when gardening, digging during the construction of a new house and diving in the sea.