

Munition Spotted In Canal

Posted At : June 6, 2017 10:53 AM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: WWII Era UXO Finds

Barnoldswick, United Kingdom A local resident called police after he reportedly noticed a munition item in the shallow waters of a canal. The Royal Logistics Corps Bomb Disposal Unit was dispatched from Chester and spent several hours searching the area before finding a WWII era practice projectile. The bomb squad safely removed the item for proper disposal and thanked the public for reporting the find.