

Airport Temporarily Closed Due To UXO Finds

Posted At : February 10, 2019 6:29 PM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: WWII Era UXO Finds

Rome, Italy The Ciampino airport was evacuated and flights diverted after three WWII era UXO items were found during construction work. An Italian Army EOD team responded and safely disposed of the items. The airport was re-opened after about three hours with several flights being delayed or diverted.

Approximately, 750 passengers waiting outside the airport terminal building for updates say they were not initially told of the reason for the evacuation.

