

Phosphorous Flare Found on Popular UK Beach

Posted At : February 27, 2018 10:01 PM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: Underwater UXO - UXO Finds

Watchet, United Kingdom The Watchet Coastguard issued a safety warning to members of the public after it found a UXO on popular Lilstock Beach. Upon arrival, the team located the suspected ordnance, identified as a phosphorous flare, and established a safety cordon around it. After consulting with a Royal Navy EOD team, it was determined that the flare could not be destroyed until daylight. Members of the public were warned not to approach or touch the flare.

