

Hidden Ordnance Found During House Remodel

Posted At : February 28, 2018 2:24 PM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: Unusual Mmunition Finds

Newport News, Virginia A house remodel turned EOD response when a couple found a WWII bazooka behind a panel in their garage. Realizing the potential danger, the homeowners contacted the Newport News Police who responded with the Newport News Fire department.

The pair was removing paneling on the garage walls when they found a container which read "Container M-87." Police on the scene called in the bomb squad who rendered the munition safe, then took it to Naval Weapons Station Yorktown for proper disposal.

