

WWII Era UXO Find Causes Massive Evacuation

Posted At : April 29, 2018 9:56 AM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: WWII Era UXO Finds

Berlin, Germany More than 10,000 people were evacuated from their homes and business while authorities responded to a WWII era British bomb found at a construction site. The evacuations also impacted one of Germany's busiest train stations, a nearby hospital and court building.

Following the render safe operation, bomb disposal personnel were able to remove the bomb from the site and transport it off-site for disposal.

Additional Photos Below:

