Sofia, Bulgaria A series of explosion occurred at a munitions storage depot owned by a private contractor. The cause of the explosion is unknown but reports indicate that 21 workers were present at the facility at the time of the blast. Of the 21, 18 were found with half of them reportedly injured. A search is underway for the three missing workers. The explosions left a large crater in the area where a workshop once stood. Local authorities have diverted traffic from a major highway located near the facility. The explosions also caused several large fires which have hampered search efforts.
