

Man Drops Live Munition Off At Sheriff's Office

Posted At : June 19, 2017 3:46 PM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: What Not To Do With UXO

Boulder, Colorado The bomb squad was called to respond to the sheriff's office after a local resident dropped off a munition. Reportedly, the man wanted to dispose of the ordnance, described only as an "old projectile" and decided to drive it to the sheriff's rather than call police. The bomb squad was able to safely transport the item for off-site disposal.