

UXO History Question

Posted At : March 6, 2009 2:22 PM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: Questions

The following question was received by a UXOInfo.com reader for posting:

"In the 1940's British bomb disposal units were split into two team types: Removal teams and Sterilization teams. What were the differences in duties and responsibilities of the two teams? Please define removal and sterilization as it pertained to British Bomb disposal procedures in the 1940's."

If you have any answer, please use the add comment feature below to post it. Thank you.