Nova Scotia, Canada The International Dialogue on Underwater Munitions (IDUM) seeks sponsors for the 5th IDUM in Sydney, Nova Scotia, Canada 28-29 May 2014. The Dialogue will follow NATO Science for Peace (Chemical Weapons) Program 26-27 May 2014. IDUM is a Co-Director of the NATO Program in the Baltic Sea. The week will be jammed-packed with events and end with a one day Economic Summit 30 May 2014 to discuss strategies to develop opportunities related to underwater munitions for marine, environment and defense industries. Do not miss these important week long events on Underwater Munitions Policy, Science, Technology and Responses. There is still time for your organization to be included in the agenda for underwater demonstrations. We have tentative ROV's, AUV's, Sensors, UXO Dive Team and the US Navy Mammal (Dolphins) Program for the 5th IDUM.

IDUM cooperated in the past years with individuals, industry and governments and will continue to cooperate with stakeholders to constructively engage in underwater munitions policy, science, technologies and responses. Some underwater munitions sites in Canada are located off the east and west coasts, the Great Lakes, Bay of Fundy and St Lawrence River. Experts believe the amounts of munitions in our in-land waterways, lakes, seas and oceans can be measured in the millions of tons.

IDUM would like to take this opportunity to seek Sponsors for the 5th International Dialogue on Underwater Munitions in Sydney, Nova Scotia, Canada. Individuals and organizations interested in becoming a Sponsor for the 5th IDUM should contact chair@idum.org or (Canada) 1-902-574-7420. Registration for the 5th IDUM will be up at www.underwatermunitions.org by 20 January 2014. We thank you in advance for your kind support and interest in IDUM and our member organizations.
